A large stockholding and strong logistics means a dependable supply of new and reusable steel.

When it comes to supplying prime steels, we've put a lot of thought into our service and our facilities, so we can anticipate the material you need to source and answer any questions about supply.

In our dedicated storage facilities, we keep a huge quantity and variety of materials in stock. We actively source materials through close relationships with a wide network of contacts such as steel mills, and if we don't stock what you need, we know where to get it.

Our length of time in the industry and our close network means we can also promise very competitive prices, while ensuring you get premium quality products.

As a company, we're run with professionalism and integrity. We work with you to match your specifications and are experts in sourcing the right materials for you in the required volumes on time. With a dedicated team with deep industry experience we understand which products will best suit your application.

Obviously sourcing the right steel is only part of the issue; making sure it's where you need it, when you need it is equally vital. So, we continually invest in our logistics infrastructure, including our specialist handling equipment and fleet of vehicles, to ensure we never miss a deadline.

So wherever you are, whatever you need, you can depend on EMR. Just as you can depend on the quality of materials we supply. In fact, we use them ourselves whenever we can, and you won't get a higher recommendation than that. In short we have what you need and can deliver it when you need it.

- Dependable quality.
- Prime materials stocked.
- Strong logistics means efficient delivery to your timescales.
- We'll work closely with you to source material to your specifications.
